

Patrick Sabongui - INSERT DEMO REEL LINK HERE

Patrick Sabongui is a New York-based actor whose work spans network television, prestige drama, studio franchises, and stage. He most recently starred as series lead Jacob Hassani in NBC's The Hunting Party – the latest chapter in a career built on physical, emotionally charged, nuanced performances at the center of mainstream American storytelling. He is perhaps best known for his nine seasons as Captain David Singh across The CW's DC universe The Flash, Arrow, and Supergirl, one of the longest-running recurring roles in the Arrowverse. On the dramatic side, he has recurred opposite Claire Danes in Showtime's Homeland, opposite Katherine Heigl in Netflix's Firefly Lane, and on Shameless, Get Shorty, Shooter, Virgin River, and The Good Doctor. His Hallmark credits include We Need a Little Christmas opposite Erica Durance and Lynn Whitfield, and Christmas Sail opposite Katee Sackhoff. Additional television credits include 24, Taken, The 100, Stargate: Atlantis, and Psych. His studio feature credits include 300, Watchmen, Sucker Punch, Godzilla, The Bourne Legacy, X-Men: Days of Future Past, Night at the Museum: Secret of the Tomb, Black Adam, and White House Down. A Canadian American actor of Egyptian descent, Patrick is equally at home on the stage, with theatre credits ranging from world premiere new works to Pulitzer Prize-winning plays. With nearly 200 credits across action, drama, and comedy, he remains one of the most versatile and reliably compelling leading men working today.

